

Stakeholder Review of Expectations

Once drafted, Ground Work teams should solicit feedback from stakeholders regarding the campus matrix of behavior expectations. Stakeholders include other campus staff, students, and families/community members. This feedback may be solicited through written communication or focus groups. Below are example questions to prompt feedback from stakeholders:

Stakeholders	Questions
Campus Staff	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. What are your classroom behavior expectations for the core value of safe?</li> <li>2. What are your classroom behavior expectations for the core value of respect?</li> <li>3. What are your classroom behavior expectations for the core value of responsible?</li> <li>4. Review the campus matrix, are there expectations you identified that are not represented in the campus matrix and should be added?</li> <li>5. Are there any expectations need to be rethought or revised?</li> </ol>
Students	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. What does “safe” look, or sound like to you?</li> <li>2. What does “respect” look, or sound like to you?</li> <li>3. What does “responsible” look, or sound like to you?</li> <li>4. What are some of the behavior expectations you follow or use at home?</li> <li>5. What are some of the behavior expectations you follow or use with your friends or in your neighborhood?</li> <li>6. What do safe, respectful, and responsible behaviors look or sound like when demonstrated by school staff?</li> </ol>
Families &amp; Community	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. What does “safe” mean to you?</li> <li>2. What does “respect” mean to you?</li> <li>3. What does “responsible” mean to you?</li> <li>4. What are some of the behavior expectations you enforce or value with your child at home?</li> <li>5. Review the campus matrix, are there expectations that go against any values or behaviors you use at home?</li> <li>6. What expectations would you like to see added or represented?</li> <li>7. What expectations need to be rethought or revised?</li> </ol>